HERITAGE DAY 2018
“HERITAGE STANDS THE TEST OF TIME”

Heritage Day, proclaimed annually in February throughout the nation, celebrates the architectural heritage and historic places of Canada. The WDM, City of Yorkton Archives, and members of the Yorkton Chapter of the Saskatchewan Genealogical Society are pleased to again work together to celebrate the event on Sunday, February 18 from 2:00 - 5:00 pm.

The National Trust for Canada recognizes the architectural heritage and historic places of Canada. The 2018 Heritage Day theme is “Heritage Stands the Test of Time”, and highlights the varied sources of history and knowledge, and the enduring nature of our heritage. This event furthers the Museum’s mission of promoting Saskatchewan heritage, and is an opportunity to partner with other groups and local historians/interest groups.

Guest speakers are Terri Lefebvre Prince, City of Yorkton Historian; Murray Wood, NewsTalk 980 CJME News Director; and Dr. Glenn Sutter, Curator of Human Ecology, Royal Saskatchewan Museum.

In addition, members of the Yorkton Chapter of the Saskatchewan Genealogy Society will be sharing information on tracing family histories and answer questions relating to genealogical research.
