Our Wheels and Runners program was updated in 2023!

This program offers students an educational and engaging way to learn about the influence of the natural environment on Saskatchewan's communities and their methods of transportation.

This is a Museum-led, in-Museum program supported by chaperones. The program takes two hours to complete and has four components.

The first component is a Travel in Saskatchewan discussion. First, students will discuss Travel in Saskatchewan together as a class. Images and hands-on artifacts enable Museum staff to introduce students to three environments in Saskatchewan and how those environments influence modes of transportation. Next, the class is divided into three groups with each group taking a turn participating in the following three components of the program:

- Design Your Own Transportation - This component invites students to use the information gained in the Travel in Saskatchewan discussion to create a mode of transportation to suit one of the three environments.
- Artifact Quest - Takes students on a mission to find transportation-related artifacts throughout the Museum galleries using cardinal directions and map reading skills.
- Wheels and Runners Bingo - Challenges students to review the terms and concepts covered in the Travel in Saskatchewan discussion in a fun and familiar way.

"It [Wheels and Runners] was well laid out and organized. The leader was knowledgeable and helpful. We enjoyed our time at the WDM."
